NOBLE CALEDONIA

Hintlesham Hall

An Introduction by Andrew Cochrane, Noble Caledonia Founder & Director

“ Have you ever visited the Suffolk Heritage Coast? If so, you will know it is a wonderfully peaceful and scenic stretch of coast and an ‘Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty’. It may only be slightly less than one hundred miles from London but could be 500 hundred miles in its unhurried atmosphere and gentle pace of life. Somehow, Suffolk and in particular the 50 mile stretch of Heritage Coast has survived the onslaught of the 21st century, making its towns and villages a pleasure to visit and its unspoiled landscape a joy. Nowhere is this truer than the seaside town of Aldeburgh, known the world over for its Music Festival, a magnet for cultural tourists. We have chosen Aldeburgh as our base for five nights because there is something very special about the town. Likewise, our choice of hotel, the Wentworth, is one of those rare owner managed properties of enormous charm with the added bonus of facing the sea and the fisherman’s huts and little boats which dot the beach.

The big skies and extraordinary light of East Anglia are unique and offer the most amazing conditions in which to create stunning gardens. From our Aldeburgh base we will visit some of the finest gardens in Suffolk and North Essex. We will admire the big skies of Constable Country, spend a morning in Beth Chatto’s famous dry garden and enjoy a private visit to Hintlesham Hall where London Festival Opera will entertain us in the splendid surroundings. There will also be visits to two other great houses and gardens: Otley Hall and Helmingham Hall, and a private visit to the Grade 1 listed Guildhall in beautiful Bury St Edmunds. Finally, no trip to Aldeburgh would be complete without a visit to Benjamin Britten’s home the Red House.

I have been visiting Aldeburgh for over 30 years and it is difficult to put into words why it’s so special, but it does have a unique timeless quality rarely found on our coasts. To make the most of your visit our itinerary has been planned at a leisurely pace, no early starts and some free time to enjoy the hotel, Aldeburgh and its surroundings. The hotel has an excellent location being just a few minutes’ walk from the High Street with its speciality shops and art galleries. You may care to bring your walking boots as the area has some fine coastal, heath and marshland walks offering delightful views and bird watching. ” ”

The Itinerary

Day 1 Aldeburgh. A transfer to the Wentworth Hotel from Ipswich Railway Station will be provided to those arriving by train. Those driving may park at the hotel's car park. Meet in the evening for welcome drinks and dinner in the hotel.

Day 2 Otley Hall. Enjoy a relaxing morning in Aldeburgh. Perhaps take an after breakfast walk along the coast towards Thorpeness or enjoy exploring Aldeburgh's picturesque High Street or the Church of Peter & Paul, the last resting place of Benjamin Britten and Peter Pears. In the late morning we head for Otley Hall, a Grade 1 listed 15th and 16th century moated Tudor Hall. Set within 10 acres of delightful gardens it is as though time has stopped among the ducks, swans, geese and peacocks. It is easy to imagine how the place might have looked in late Medieval and early Tudor times and the days when the owner Bartholomew Gosnold planned two voyages that resulted in the founding of the United States. We will explore both the house and the gardens before a buffet lunch is served in Martha's Barn, locally celebrated for its local, seasonal and artisan food.

Day 3 Beth Chatto Garden & Hintlesham Hall. After breakfast depart for the Beth Chatto Garden, across the border in North Essex. Beth Chatto OBE took an overgrown wasteland of brambles, parched gravel and boggy ditches in 1960 and created one of the most amazing gardens in the country. Beth oversaw the development of the gardens well into her 90's and they remain a family-run business. Wonder at the Gravel Garden which was once a car park and is never watered, as well as the Scree Garden, Water Garden and Woodland. In the early afternoon drive back into Suffolk for lunch at the 16th century Hintlesham Hall. Set in 175 acres of classic Suffolk landscape we will spend the afternoon here. After lunch London Festival Opera will perform and before leaving we will have time to stroll in the grounds. Enjoy dinner at the Wentworth this evening.

Day 4 Fullers Mill & Bury St Edmunds. This morning we drive to West Suffolk and the enchanting and tranquil seven acre Fullers Mill Garden on the banks of the River Lark. Created by the late Bernard Tickner it is a marvellous and thought provoking garden located on both sides of the river. It combines a beautiful site of light dappled woodland with a plantsman's collection of unusual shrubs, perennials, lilies and marginal plants. Transfer to Bury St Edmunds for lunch at the Angel Hotel before arriving at the town's celebrated Grade 1 listed Guildhall. Dating back to the thirteenth century the building has a fascinating history, and we will visit its World War II operational rooms to learn about the role they played in the Battle of Britain. Following lunch the Guildhall's Banqueting Hall will provide a stunning backdrop for a performance by London Festival Opera. Return to the Wentworth for dinner.

Day 5 The Red House & Helmingham Hall. Just outside Aldeburgh is the home of composer Benjamin Britten and tenor Peter Pears. They shared the Red House for almost twenty years and today you will find it just as they left it, a charmingly informal snapshot as though Britten and Pears had just stepped out for a moment. Following a light lunch back at the Wentworth continue on to Helmingham Hall, the home of the Tollemache family since 1510. The Hall appears to float on the surface of its broad surrounding moat. The Head Gardener will join us for a wander around the extensive and beautiful gardens. Drive back along Suffolk's lanes to Aldeburgh for our farewell dinner at the Wentworth and the music of Nick Raison.

Day 6 Aldeburgh. After breakfast a transfer will be provided to Ipswich Railway Station for those returning home by train.

Wentworth Hotel

WENTWORTH HOTEL

For the duration of our tour we have taken over all the accommodation of this fine sea facing hotel which has been run by the same family since 1920. At any time, the returning guests can number up to 75% of those staying and it is easy to see why. It is a traditionally run hotel of impeccable standards.

All of the 35 bedrooms are beautifully appointed and individually designed with inland or sea-views and some benefit from a small sitting area overlooking the sea. Each winter the hotel closes its doors for a few weeks for refurbishment, which is readily apparent in its open plan sitting areas and guest rooms.

The sea facing dining room overlooks the town's long shingle beach and the characterful wooden fishing huts and is famous throughout the area for its fine food, in particular its fish which is supplied by the local fisherman. Outside, the hotel's Tiffany garden is a lovely spot to read or enjoy a drink and take in the coastal views. The hotel also offers two cosy guest lounges with open fires and comfortable sofas.
